Antalya Airport Named Europe's Best Airport

The Airports Council International (ACI) Europe has named Antalya Airport in the south of Turkey as the best airport in Europe in the "10-25 million passenger" category.

ICF Airports Antalya Airport Director General Alexander Laukenmann said during an Award ceremony that Antalya had won this award in part because it had the best security.

iOmniscient would like to congratulate its partner Smart of Turkey who implemented the security system for Antalya using the full iQ-Infinity suite across the airport.

Smart, founded by Mr.Sermet Satir and Emre Ertan in 2002, operates in both Turkey and Russia and has to its credit a multinational list of eminent customers.

Mr.Sermet Satir
(Chairman of Smart, Turkey)

Smart is also a founding member of Turkey's Association of Electrical Installation Engineers and the Chairman of Smart, Mr.Sermet Satir is also the Association's current Chairman.
